“ I first became acquainted with Virginia when she offered to take over for Elmer as my pen pal when he passed away. I remember eagerly waiting for her response to my letters and she never let me down, it was always so exciting when I got mail. Throughout the years, we shared many letters back and forth. I came to treasure our relationship and knew how lucky I was to have her as a friend.

I am very sorry to hear of her passing, she was a wonderful woman. My thoughts are with her family during this difficult time.

“ I have very fond memories of staying out on the farm all summer, it was such a simple way of life! Aunt Virgie taught Jenny and I how to sew and make halter tops when we were kids, get black walnuts and let me peel potatoes! We would leave for the day with a packed lunch but never leave the acreage of the farm! I never heard her say a negative word about anyone, she is my hero.... such a wonderful person! I am sad that she is gone and no longer here in the physical form but yet I cant help but smile at all she has taught me. In my eyes she is a saint!
